It Always Helps
says Mrs. Sylvania Woods of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardul, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Fefore I began to use Cardul, my back and hear would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardul, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill.

I wish every suffering woman would give

MAY AMOUNT TO TWO MIL LION DOLLARS IN SEA. SONS

HARD

Two-Fifths of Cotton Crop in This State Damaged by This Insect.

Washington, D. C., June 26.-The loss to cotton growers in the southeast from the red spider may amount in some seasons to two million de! lars, according to a recent study of this pest made by the United States department of agriculture. Many planters believe that the cotton plants affected by this insect are suffering from rust. The injury, however, is not due to a disease, but to the presence on the cotton leaves of multitudes of the small mites com-monly known as red spiders. These suck the juices from the leaves and cause them first to redden or turn a at 30 clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. John C. Watkins on Calhoun street. Owing to a recent bereavement in the bride's family, the wedding will be a very quiet afand the yield from the field is ma-terially reduced.

To prevent injury to cotton from this cause the department of agriculture, recommends, in Farmers Bulle tin 735, by E. A. McGregor, the despring, the spraying of certain culti-vated plants around dwellings, the maintenance of a finely pulverized surface sail in the cotton field, the destruction by plowing up and burn-ing of plants, or areas that become invested early, and finally spraying if the infestation becomes general. The red spider may ravege cotton fields at any time from the middle of June to the middle of September. Certain fields are infested while oth-ers in the immediate vicinity remain Miss Virginis Evans has returned to her home at Pendleton after a visit to Missos Sara and Eunice Evans.

Misses ommie Honea and Gladys Smyth have returned to their home home in Atlanta after a visit to Miss Georgia Honea.

Certain fields are infested while others in the immediate vicinity remain quite free. The total extent of the injury, however, is likely to be very serious. In 1912, for example, two-fifths of fife) cotton crop in South Carolina was damaged by this insect.

Multiply in Spring.

The great mass of red spiders pass the winter on wild plants. With the first warm days in the spring

Misa Caroline Bradley of Washington, Ga., is visiting her sister, Mrs.

A. Carter.

Mr. D. S. Vandiver has gone to campa, to attend the Cotton Seed Prushers association.

Mr. Edward Simpson of Atlanta is institling Misses Sam and N. B. Sultivan;

the first warm days in the spring they begin to multiply with great rapidity and it becomes necessary for them to seek new feeding grounds. They attack whatever weeds and garden plants they may meet and cotton fields. In the late fall when cotton is no longer available for them, the spiders migrate again to the wild plant; which are frequently found in the borders of fields, and it has been ascertained that it many the first warm days in the spring has been ascertained that in many cases they infest violet beds. Altogether, this insect has been found breeding on nearly 260 species of plants, the most common of which are cotton, cultivated violet, sow thistie, hollyhock, dahlia, garden beans, corn, tomato, onlon carnation, sweet pea, hedge nettle, nasturtium, morning glody, clover, wild vetch, ironweed, Jerusalem oak, wild ge-a-nium, evening primrose, pokeweed strawberry.

Many of these plants are useless weeds which can well be destroyed. Where this has been done in and around cotton fields, it has been found in several instances that com-COTTON SEED CRUSHERS been enjoyed the following season, Many cases of cotton infestation from the red spider, however, can be traced to cultivated plants in nearby doorwards. Such plants should beexamined closely and sprayed as soon as they show any signs of infestation. The government investigators have tested a large number of apray combinations in their work against the red spider and have found that the following are thoroughly satisfactory: (1) pothsaum sulphid, (1 ounce to 2 gallons of water;) (2) limesulpiur (homemade or commercial;) (3) kerosense emulsion (prepared necording to undat formular;) (4) flour-paste solution (1 gallon of stock paste to 12 gallons of water.) Any one of these spraye if properly

BROADWELL OFFERS FOR CLERK OF COURT

Former Alderman and Magistrate Makes Formal Announce-

In this morning's issue of The Intelligencer appears the formal announcement of the candidacy of Mr. W. C. Broadwell for clerk of court for Anderson county. It is not necessary for Mr. Broadwell to be introduced to the voters of the city and county of Anderson, for by his long residence here and his contact with the public in the capacity of alderman of the city of Anderson and lat-er as magistrate for the county he has become acquainted with prac-tically all the voters about here.

It is also somewhat unnecessary was any shown. The Bible cays encareer. For four years he served the city of Anderson most acceptably as alderman from Ward Six. And Mr. Broadwell would be in council today if he cared to be, for he was never turned down when he asked for the office. After serving his second term as alderman he voluntarily resigned.

As magistrate for the county of Anderson Mr. Broadwell was no legs popular than he was as alderman for the city of Anderson. He served the county and state in a highly satisfactory manner while holding this office, and there were few if any who had reason to complain of the way he handled the matters that were he nancied the matters that were brought before him. Mr. Broadwell says that he is making the race for clerk of court on his merits and that in so Coing he is not attempting to drag down or slander any other can-didate. He believes in every man standing on his own merits, he says, and not on the faults and shortcomings of any other man.
